Lead image again

[\[edit source \]](#)

A year ago the current image was agreed upon for the taxbox. I feel like we should reconsider in light of the discussions on the leopard and jaguar lead images. Candidates for these articles were rejected based on them showing disruptive coloration and I feel the current tiger image has the same problem, the tiger doesn't pop out. I would like to suggest File:Rajaram, Kanha Tiger, Young one.jpg as the new lead. LittleJerry \(talk\) 01:00, 28 July 2021 (UTC)

Ooh, that's a gorgeous image. However, the tiger image in the taxobox currently shows the build and pattern of the tiger more fully than the one you are proposing. It also doesn't really have a problem with disruptive coloration. --SilverTiger12 \(talk\) 02:49, 28 July 2021 (UTC)

I also think that the current one is perfect for the taxobox, as it shows a tiger from the side. -- BhagyaMani \(talk\) 08:13, 28 July 2021 (UTC)

I think the current one could be cropped tighter, as the tiger fills less than half of the frame. Hemiauchenia \(talk\) 10:59, 28 July 2021 (UTC)
